New Information!

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY!

While not required to hold Utah certification, interpreters who possess RID/NAD certificates must be recognized by the State of Utah before being able to interpret in this state.

This approval must be obtained annually, by completing and returning this form with the $30.00 recognition fee. Please attach a copy of your current RID/NAD certificate.

The Division of Services for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DSDHH) and the Utah Interpreter Program maintains a state information system on all certified interpreters and transliterators. DSDHH publishes and provides such information to national, state and local governmental bodies and other public and private employers who seek certified interpreters/translitterators. Your permission is required to publish your name, certification level, and telephone number in the Utah Certified Interpreter List, and to share same as part of its regular information sharing on certified interpreters and translitterators.

☐ YES, you may publish my name and contact information in the Utah Certified Interpreter List / UIP website.
